

I am writing to oppose any changes to the current rule which dilutes the requirements of the "No Call List" Specifically Banks are petitioning to weaken its provisions. Any changes which affect the present restrictions of the Indiana "List" are objectionable to me. Banks and other entities which engage in any marketing function have numerous other avenues to present their message. Telemarketing is the single most annoying, intrusive, rude approach. I don't want it!